Construction and Demolition Debris Task Force Created

Task Force to study reduction, recycling and reuse of C&D

Concord, NH – Department of Environmental Services Commissioner, Tom Burack announced today the formation of a Task Force to study the reduction, recycling, and reuse (3R) of Construction and Demolition Debris (C&D). The task force will be known as the DES 3R C&D Task Force. The task force will have its initial meeting on Friday, May 18, 2007, from 1 to 4 p.m. in the auditorium of the DES Building located at 29 Hazen Drive in Concord.

The task force membership consists of approximately 40 people representing governmental, environmental, cultural, industrial, construction, demolition, and other related interests. Identification of barriers to the reduction, recycling and reuse of C&D, discussion of means to overcome those barriers, and the assessment of potential markets for recycled C&D materials are among the goals of the task force. The meeting is open to the public for observation.

For more information about the task force, please contact Paul Heirtzler at (603) 271-2945.
